VOL. XXXIX. NO. 72.

XENIA, OHIO, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 24, 1920.

CHIEF OF POLICE CANADAY RESIGNS OFFICE WEDNESDAY

Will Go Into Grocery Business at Shoup's Station.

NO SUCCESSOR YET

Canaday Has Filled Position Here For Over Six Years.

Chief of Police James M. Canaday, for six years head of the Xenia Police department, handed his resignation to City Manager Kenyon Riddle Wednesday morning to become effective April first.

Chief Canaday gives as his reason for resigning the fact that he intends to go into the grocery and coal business at Shoup's Station having leased the store room and residence owned by C. L. Fies and operated recently by Paul Young.

When Chief Canaday severs his connection with the police department he will have completed six years and two months of service in the city's employ. He went into office on Feb. 1, succeeding Police Chief Smith, who had held the office for a number of years. Previous to his period of service as head of the department, Chief Canaday served as a patrolman on the force during 1905-6 and 1907.

The retiring officer has worked tirelessly for a better Xenia, from the criminal standpoint, and as he retires from office, it is a fact that the city is practically free from it. Handicapped by a small force, which permitted him but four patrolmen on the streets, ever during the regime of the open saloon, the department managed to keep crime at a minimum.

While the startling list of crimes that occupied the attention of the police departments everywhere a quarter of a century or more ago, have lessened, the local police under the directorship of Chief Canaday played a part in several cases that made the department here feared by the criminal world.

There were three murders during the regime of Chief Canaday, and for each the criminal is serving time. Three men were sent to the penitentiary for the murder of Earl McDufford, while James Cruzen is in the State Hospital for the Criminal Insane for the murder of John Hosier and Robert Hosier was sent up for the murder of a man named Taylor. Probably more than twenty automobiles were recaptured after being stolen, and only a very few were gotten away entirely. Charles Mangan, another capture of Chief Canaday's is now serving time in the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga., on a charge of rifling the mails.

A civil service examination will probably be ordered by the city manager to fill the vacancy and in case an appointment is not made before the time of Chief Canaday expires, Night Chief Day will probably assume the reins pending the appointment of his successor.

Chief Canaday plans to put in a new stock of groceries at his new store and will also handle coal as well as the agency for the Western Ohio Cremery.

SHEETS TO CONTEST RIGHT OF REMOVAL FROM COURT JOB

George W. Sheets will contest his removal from the office of clerk of the courts.

Proceedings in quo warranto were brought in the Court of Appeals Wednesday by Mr. Sheets against his successor, Charles S. Johnson, asking that the latter be ousted from the office to which he was appointed by the county commissioners, last week.

The petition, filed by Attorneys F. L. Johnson and C. L. Darlington, counsel for Mr. Sheets, avers that their client is the duly elected, commissioned and qualified officer, and that Mr. Johnson is a usurper. It asks that Mr. Johnson be required to show by what warrant he holds the office of clerk and that he be adjudged to be not entitled to it and a judgment of ouster pronounced against him.

Mr. Johnson was appointed clerk of the courts by the county commissioners last Friday, after Mr. Sheets had been removed by Judge Kyle and the office declared vacant.

HOUSE SHORTAGE SUBJECT OF JOKES

London, March 24.—The house and hotel shortage has reached such a stage in London that one of the weekly journals pictures a "revolted" burglar and this conversation:

Burglar: "It isn't money I want. Where does this door lead to?" Nervous occupant: "That leads to a spare bed room." Burglar: "That's just what I've been advertising for."

RESIGNS POSITION

Chief of Police James M. Canaday, who has handed in his resignation to City Manager Riddle, to become effective April 1. He has served as head of the department here for six years and retires to go into business for himself at Shoup's Station.

DAYLIGHT SAVING VOTING CONTEST PROVES POPULAR

City Commissioners Interviewed Differ In Opinions.

VOTING IS URGED Thursday Last Day To Cast Ballot On Proposed Plan.

Votes are still rolling into the office of the Gazette and Republican on the straw vote being conducted by these papers to determine how public sentiment stands on the daylight saving plan now being agitated here. An urgent appeal is being made for voting, and expressions either for or against are desired.

The ballot box is the office of the newspapers is practically full of marked ballots, and many have also been received at the voting places established in the residential districts. For the convenience of the up-town voters, the Charles F. Greenlease "Smoke House" has also been placed on the list of voting places, and will be used especially convenient at night when the office of the Gazette and Republican is closed.

HERE'S WHERE TO VOTE

Kearney Bros. Grocery. Chambliss Bros. Grocery. Davis Grocery. Taylor Grocery. East End Drug Store. Holmes Grocery. Bradstreet Grocery. C. F. Greenlease Cigar Store.

City Commissioner C. S. Frazer, when approached on the subject Wednesday morning, stated that he was personally in favor of the project. It is assumed that his attitude on the "hour more daylight" plan is practically assurance that he will cast his vote favoring the movement when it comes before the Commission.

"I am neutral," said City Commissioner Harry Fisher when interviewed Wednesday morning. While Commissioner Fisher did not express himself as to how he would stand in a vote on the question he indicated that he did not thoroughly favor the movement. Many business men announced themselves as thoroughly favoring the proposition when asked concerning their views Wednesday morning. Chief of Police Canaday is also an advocate of the plan, according to an opinion given out by him Wednesday.

Voters on the proposition are urged to fill out the blanks properly. Not only the name but address should be jotted down on the proper line, so that their ballots will be legal and will be counted correctly. Ballots incorrectly marked will have to be thrown out of the general count. Voters should also remember that they do not have to mail their ballots into the Gazette and Republican. If they find it more convenient to drop their ballots into one of the boxes at the voting places provided for they are assured they will reach the proper source, collection being made Thursday morning at ten o'clock when the voting will close.

SEARCH LINES

New York, March 24.—Detectives searched the Ward liner Monterey from stern to stern today when the vessel arrived here from Mexican ports. They said they were looking for a man who had stolen $97,000 in Texas and escaped. They denied looking for Jack Johnson, who was reported trying to smuggle himself into the country.

TRENCH WARFARE NOW HOLDS SWAY BETWEEN GERMAN FACTIONS

Anti-Government Troops Attempting to Cut Way To Holland.

LEADERS LOSE GRIP

General Strike Called Off By Labor Organizations, Report.

Berlin, March 23.—(10 p. m.)—Trench warfare has developed between government troops and the reds in the region of Munster, Westphalia. The reds are trying to cut their way through the government forces to the Holland frontier.

The reds began an offensive against the government forces of General Von Vatter. These troops were driven behind the Aa, and General Von Vatter was obliged to abandon his headquarters. The government troops have thrown up entrenchments all along their front. The general strike has been called off by five of the leading locals of the workers union.

The newspapers Vorwaerts and Freiheit appeared tonight for the first time in ten days.

The subway is running again and Berlin is quiet.

There are indications that work will be resumed in the factories damaged by sabotage.

It looks today as if the political leaders had lost their grip upon the workers entirely. The laborites persisted in their demands for the withdrawal of all troops from the factory districts to the center of the city, but the government refused.

The cabinet was vacillating on the Ruhr decision.

Two proposals were before the ministers regarding the future of the cabinet. One was for all of the ministers to resign at once for the formation of a cabinet meeting the approval of the socialists; the other was for the ministers, against whom opposition is keenest, to quit as individuals.

A government statement reveals that the five labor organizations calling off the general strike are the same ones that brought about the downfall of the Von Kapp regime by their pressure through controlling the strike movement.

Berlin, March 24.—Major General Von Luetwitz, the military commander in the Kapp revolt, has been arrested, it is officially announced. Admiral von Trotha, chief of the admiralty, has also been arrested.

There is no definite news of Kapp's whereabouts. It is supposed he is on his estate in east Prussia.

Soon after his return to Berlin President Ebert ordered the imperial court at Leipzig to bring action against the leaders of the revolution, including Kapp, Von Luetwitz, Von Jagow, and Admiral Trotha.

Insurgents have captured the palace in the town of Schleswig, capital of the province of Schleswig-Holstein, according to a dispatch received here. A number of officers of Cavalry Regiment No. 18 were taken prisoner. A self-styled committee of action is in control of Schleswig, the dispatch says.

A detachment of the Loewenfeldt Naval Brigade on the way to Ecklitz, 12 miles southeast of Schleswig, was held up by the citizens guard of Ecklitz, but a truce was established as a result of negotiations with the Schleswig committee of action. The detachment will be allowed to proceed to Dugensdorf near Rendsburg.

ADVANCING RENTS

WILL MEAN RIGHTS SAY N. Y. TENANTS

Albany, N. Y., March 24.—Members of the New York assembly were told today that disorders are sure to occur unless a check is placed on advancing rents. People are becoming aroused, they were told, and rioting and destruction of property are threatened if relief is not afforded.

Landlords and tenants transferred their rent war from New York to Albany and faced one another across the assembly chamber. Senator John E. Mullane, who presided, urged speakers to eliminate "description of conditions" familiar to the committee and merely to criticize bills. Senator John C. Lockwood, the first speaker, denied "statements appearing in the newspapers last week" that Speaker Sweet was throttling rent legislation.

GEN. WOOD WINS IN S. DAKOTA PRIMARY RACE

Lowden Holding Second Place With Returns Not Complete.

Mitchell, S. D., Mar. 24.—General Leonard Wood carried South Dakota by a plurality estimated at from 8,000 to 15,000 votes in a three-cornered fight for the Republican presidential endorsement.

Incomplete returns early today showed the following results: Wood 19,960; Lowden 13,156; Johnson 12,640.

Though Governor Lowden now holds second place, according to the returns, observers say he will run third when complete returns are in. Showing made by Senator Johnson was made particularly strong in counties with a large German population. In one of these he polled 1,003 against 126 for Lowden and 70 for Wood. It is estimated that Governor Lowden expended nearly $500,000 in an effort to carry South Dakota. The Wood campaign was largely financed by the local machine, headed by Governor Peter Norbeck. Early returns indicated a small lead for Wood but huge gains reported from the Black Hills district—the old Roosevelt stronghold—placed him in the lead by a wide margin.

WILL OF MRS. NANCY WINTER IS CONTESTED

Petition Filed After Document Is Admitted To Probate.

Directly after the will of Mrs. Nancy Winter, late of Cedarville, was admitted to probate by Judge J. C. Marshall Wednesday, a petition to contest the will was filed in common pleas court by Attorneys C. L. Darlington and Marcus Shoup, representing Miss Isabelle Winter, a daughter of the testator.

The will disposed of an estate which is estimated to be worth $45,000, chiefly realty. By the will, the son, Andrew Winter is bequeathed $10,000, in consideration the document sets forth, of care and attention given in the management of the testator's business, through a great many years. The residue of the estate is divided, share and share alike between the three children; Andrew Winter, Mrs. Elizabeth Winter Nisbet, and Miss Isabelle Winter. By provision of the will, Charles E. Nisbet and Andrew Winter were named as executors. They qualified for the duty.

The will was executed June 11, 1918, and was witnessed by O. L. Smith and J. A. Finney. Attorneys W. L. Miller and Finney appeared for the estate when the will was probated.

GOVERNMENT HAS SPENT TOO MUCH FOR EXPENDITURES

Washington, March 24.—Government expenditures were discussed in the Senate again today. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, of Massachusetts, the Republican leader, and Senator Reed Smoot, of Utah, Republican, attacking a proposal in the annual agricultural bill for formation of a new Government bureau in charge of farm management, Senator Ellison D. Smith, of South Carolina, Democrat and others defended the provision.

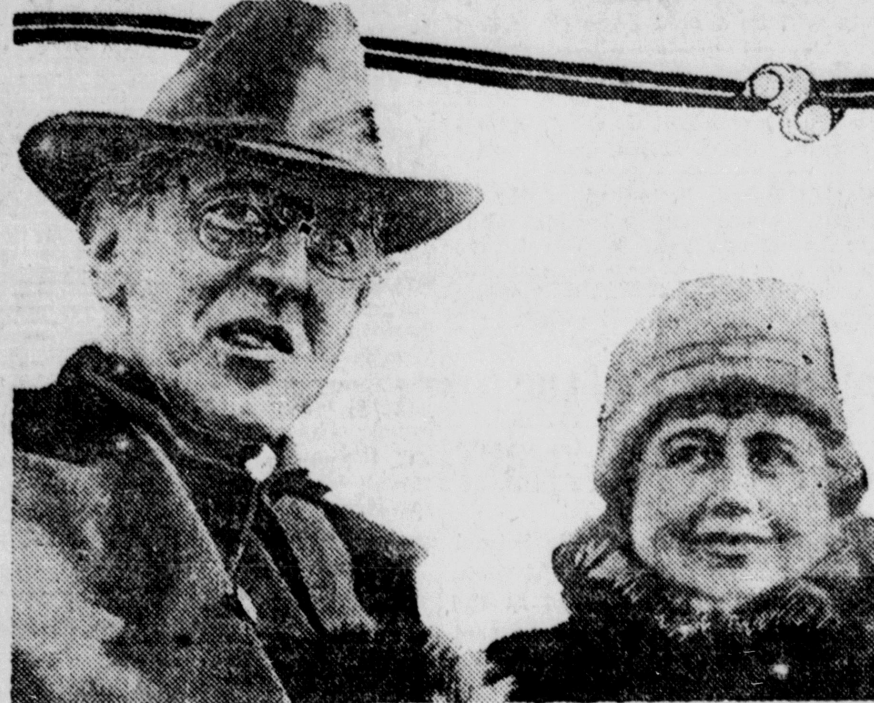

"Never have I worried so much over the future of my country as I have during the past six months," said Senator Smoot. "There must be an end to the wicked waste of public funds or there will be a smash."

Senator Lodge asked the committee members to abandon the bureau proposal, but Senator Smith said the government was having difficulty keeping its scientifically trained men at present salaries and that "the honor of being a bureau head" would make up the difficulty in certain cases.

WANT TO SEND TROOPS AT REDS

London, March 24.—The two German military envoys who hastened to Paris to report to the allies on the true conditions in the Ruhr district have asked the entente to authorize the German government to send 100,000 troops against the reds in the Ruhr zone, according to a dispatch from Paris today.

After six months of seclusion in the White House, Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States, is again appearing in public. This photograph, taken a few days ago as Mr. Wilson was leaving the White House for his morning automobile ride with Mrs. Wilson, shows that the nation's chief executive is rapidly recovering from his protracted illness although the gray hairs around his temples and the thinness of his face bear mute witness to his suffering.

DELAWARE DECIDES FATE OF SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT

Is Pivotal State In Ratification of National Bill.

Dover, Delaware, March 24.—The Delaware legislature holds in its hands today the votes of millions of women. Upon the ratification or non ratification of the federal suffrage amendment, hangs the fate of suffrage in 1920.

Delaware is the crucial state. Thirty-five states have already passed the 19th amendment and if Delaware legislators can be brought in line the woman vote for president is assured this year. It is considered unlikely that a vote can be held inside of ten days if at all. Republicans and Democrats alike have refused to be bound by party lines and caucuses and will vote as their individual belief dictates. Tremendous pressure is being brought to bear on both sides.

AUTO ASSOCIATION WILL CARRY LICENSE LAW TO HIGH COURT

Cleveland, Ohio, March 24.—Holding that the new graduated horsepower license law passed by the last Legislature is in conflict with the fourteenth amendment to the Federal constitution, officers and trustees of the Ohio State Automobile Association today unanimously voted to carry the case to the United States Supreme court.

It was agreed unanimously that the measure not only discriminated and imposed double taxation on motorists but that it would fail to increase revenues for highway and street maintenance and repair. It is charged that the law is imperfect and full of inconsistencies.

Among those at the meeting were Jacob L. Will, C. D. Saviers and C. C. James, of Columbus; Frank Colucci, Lima, and Rev. Joseph H. Dodson, Zanesville.

Zanesville was selected for the annual convention May 28.

REALTY FIRM SELLS SEVERAL PROPERTIES

The real estate firm of Griev and Harness has just completed the sale of the home of A. F. Weaver on South Detroit street, to S. B. Jenkins who will make his home in the property.

The same firm has also sold the property of Clem Henrie on North Detroit street, to P. C. Banker. Possession of the house will be given about the first of May. Mr. Henrie and his family were unable to secure property in the city owing to the scarcity of houses and they have rented for the summer, Arthur Garfield's bungalow along the river, near Kil Kare Park.

ARIZONA RANKS AS COTTON STATE

Phoenix, Ariz., March 24.—Now comes Arizona as a cotton state. This last of the 1919-20 Egyptian cotton crop was picked here recently. It will bring $20,000,000 at average market price. The cotton was raised for the most part in the Salt River valley which surrounds Phoenix. Nearly 92,000 acres were planted to cotton in the district.

OFFICIAL STORY OF SHIP'S LOSS CAUSES BIG STIR

Log of U-Boat Which Sank Lusitania Creates Sensation.

OPINION EXPRESSED

Official Washington Comments On Entries in Book.

Washington, March 24.—Publication of the log of the U-20 wherein its commander, Captain-Lieutenant Schriewer, in his matter of fact way, told how he had sighted and sunk the Lusitania off the Irish coast in May 1915, created a stir among officials here. Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels, into whose hands a complete set of photographic copies of the tragic pages of the submarine's diary was placed by a representative of the International News Service, declared: "This is certainly one of the most interesting documents brought to light since the armistice."

President Wilson was presented with a separate set of the reproduction for personal study. Secretary to the President Joseph Tumulty expressed himself as greatly interested. Everywhere officials admitted the publication of the log of the U-20 shed new light on the subject and cleared up numerous puzzling points. For despite the most painstaking investigations conducted both in this country and abroad, the sinking of the Lusitania, which cost the lives of hundreds of American citizens, including many women and children, a surprising number of historically important questions had never received an answer.

Naval officers here were greatly interested in Captain Lieutenant Schriewer's navigation charts, photographic reproductions of which were turned over to the navy department. These charts showed how the submarine dodged mine fields, destroyer patrols and other dangers, from the moment she left her base at Wilhelmshaven on her death dealing voyage until her return via north of Scotland.

While freely admitted that the U-20 probably did not set out "to get" the Lusitania, the German officers deny that he knew the big four funneled vessel he was firing at was that ship, was taken with a grain of salt by many officials here, especially those connected with the army.

SIDEWALK-AWNING CASE AGAIN MAKES APPEARANCE HERE

The contest between Xenia city and H. E. Schmidt over the sidewalk and awning ordinances has bobbed into notice again, with the announcement that a motion to dismiss from the supreme court a petition in error filed by the city in the sidewalk case will be for hearing before that tribunal April 8.

At the time the application to cause Mr. Schmidt's attorneys to certify the record in the sidewalk case was filed in supreme court, the city, also, as a matter of right, filed in the same court a petition in error on the grounds that the Court of Appeals had erred in declaring the sidewalk ordinance unconstitutional. Recently the Supreme court refused to grant the motions of either Mr. Schmidt or the city, asking that the Court of Appeals be required to certify its record in the awning and sidewalk cases. As a result of this decision, Mr. Schmidt removed his awning, but still displays his merchandise on the sidewalk. The error case is still on file in supreme court, and counsel for Mr. Schmidt filed a motion that it be dismissed.

London, March 24.—The two German military envoys who hastened to Paris to report to the allies on the true conditions in the Ruhr district have asked the entente to authorize the German government to send 100,000 troops against the reds in the Ruhr zone, according to a dispatch from Paris today.

After six months of seclusion in the White House, Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States, is again appearing in public. This photograph, taken a few days ago as Mr. Wilson was leaving the White House for his morning automobile ride with Mrs. Wilson, shows that the nation's chief executive is rapidly recovering from his protracted illness although the gray hairs around his temples and the thinness of his face bear mute witness to his suffering.

Is Pivotal State In Ratification of National Bill.

Dover, Delaware, March 24.—The Delaware legislature holds in its hands today the votes of millions of women. Upon the ratification or non ratification of the federal suffrage amendment, hangs the fate of suffrage in 1920.

Delaware is the crucial state. Thirty-five states have already passed the 19th amendment and if Delaware legislators can be brought into line the woman vote for president is assured this year. It is considered unlikely that a vote can be held inside of ten days if at all. Republicans and Democrats alike have refused to be bound by party lines and caucuses and will vote as their individual belief dictates. Tremendous pressure is being brought to bear on both sides.

AUTO ASSOCIATION WILL CARRY LICENSE LAW TO HIGH COURT

Cleveland, Ohio, March 24.—Holding that the new graduated horsepower license fee law passed by the last Legislature is in conflict with the fourteenth amendment to the Federal constitution, officers and trustees of the Ohio State Automobile Association today unanimously voted to carry the case to the United States Supreme court.

It was agreed unanimously that the measure not only discriminated and imposed double taxation on motorists but that it would fail to increase revenues for highway and street maintenance and repair. It is charged that the law is imperfect and full of inconsistencies.

Among those at the meeting were Jacob L. Will, C. D. Saviers and C. C. Jones, of Columbus; Frank Colucci, Lima, and Rev. Joseph H. Dodson, Zanesville.

Zanesville was selected for the annual convention May 28.

OFFICIAL STORY OF SHIP'S LOSS CAUSES BIG STIR

Log of U-Boat Which Sank Lusitania Creates Sensation.

OPINION EXPRESSED

Official Washington Comments on Entries in Book.

Washington, March 24.—Publication of the log of the U-20 wherein its commander, Captain-Lieutenant Schiewer, in his matter of fact way, told how he had sighted and sunk the Lusitania off the Irish coast in May 1915 created a stir among officials here. Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels, into whose hands a complete set of photographic copies of the tragic pages of the submarine's diary was placed by a representative of the International News Service, declared: "This is certainly one of the most interesting documents brought to light since the armistice."

President Wilson was presented with a separate set of the reproduction for personal study. Secretary to the President Joseph Tumulty expressed himself as greatly interested.

Everywhere officials admitted the publication of the log of the U-20 shed new light on the subject and cleared up numerous puzzling points. For despite the most painstaking investigations conducted both in this country and abroad, the sinking of the Lusitania, which cost the lives of hundreds of American citizens, including many women and children, a surprising number of historically important questions had never received an answer.

Naval officers here were greatly interested in Captain-Lieutenant Schiewer's navigation charts, photographic reproductions of which were turned over to the navy department. These charts showed how the submarine dodged mine fields, destroyer patrols and other dangers, from the moment she left her base at Wilhelmshaven on her death dealing voyage until her return via north of Scotland.

While freely admitted that the U-20 probably did not set out "to get" the Lusitania, the German officers denied that he knew the big four funneled vessel he was firing at was that ship, was taken with a grain of salt by many officials here, especially those connected with the army.

SIDEWALK-AWNING CASE AGAIN MAKES APPEARANCE HERE

The contest between Xenia city and H. E. Schmidt over the sidewalk and awning ordinances has bobbed into notice again, with the announcement that a motion to dismiss from the supreme court a petition in error filed by the city in the sidewalk case will be for hearing before that tribunal April 8.

At the time the application to cause Mr. Schmidt's attorneys to certify the record in the sidewalk case was filed in supreme court, the city, also, as a matter of right, filed in the same court a petition in error on the grounds that the Court of Appeals had erred in declaring the sidewalk ordinance unconstitutional.

Recently the Supreme court refused to grant the motions of either Mr. Schmidt or the city, asking that the Court of Appeals be required to certify its record in the awning and sidewalk cases. As a result of this decision, Mr. Schmidt removed his awnings, but still displays his merchandise on the sidewalk. The error case is still on file in supreme court, and counsel for Mr. Schmidt filed a motion that it be dismissed.

SCHOOL PUPILS ARE IN FAVOR OF DAYLIGHT

Students at Central High School prefer the hour more daylight plan. In a straw vote conducted at the school Tuesday, 214 votes were cast favoring the daylight saving plan which is being advocated for this city, while 45 votes were registered against it. The vote by rooms is as follows:

Room K	25	8
Room L	26	6
Room J	23	4

The vote shows that Young America is actively interested in the questions that generally come before older minds and proves that the hour more daylight plan at least has thorough support among the children.

FARMERS FEED FEATHERED FRIENDS

Fargo, N. D., March 24.—Thousands of North Dakota farmers have been kept clear of snow comparative-ly the past winter as a means of conserving what is considered the most important wild bird in the state.

Spaces about 100 feet square have been kept clear of snow, comparative-ly close to houses and barns and table crumbs, screenings and grain scattered thereon daily and the wild birds were fed as regularly as barnyard fowls.

Steward Lockwood of the faculty of the North Dakota Agricultural college said the prairie chicken annually eats many times its weight in insects.

Society

SUNSHINE SOCIETY SEWS FOR BLIND BABIES.

Members of the Sunshine Society who met at the home of Mrs. Elton Smith Wednesday afternoon, spent the time sewing on the quilts which are being made for the Blind Babies' Home at Brooklyn, N. Y.

The Sunshine Society, which actually brings so much happiness into the lives of shut-ins and other unfortunate, is finding itself hampered in its work by lack of funds. For this reason an invitation is being extended to people to become honorary members by the payment of the $1 a year membership fee. Honorary membership would not require the one holding it to do any of the work carried on by the society. The money paid however, would help greatly in the good work being done. Mrs. G. G. McClain of this city is president of the Society and applications for membership may be made to her or Mrs. H. H. Cherry. The society also maintains a mite box in Mackey's bakery, where money may be contributed. The society also is still selling the mending outfits "Mendets" which Galloway and Cherry handle for it.

QUARANTINE BAN TO BE LIFTED AT URBANA

Urbana, March 24.—From indications, the ban on all gatherings in Urbana will be lifted at the time specified by the health board, Monday, March 29, if not ahead of schedule. The homes first invaded with smallpox are being rapidly released from quarantine.

James Curl has been appointed as deputy by Commissioner Moore to assist in fumigating homes and in "running down" contacts and persons exposed to the disease.

The State board of health had advised the local board of education to re-open schools and require all pupils to be vaccinated before returning to classes. The school board in a resolution refused to assume this responsibility at a called meeting held last Saturday night. While the board has no objection to the opening of the public schools at the earliest pleasure of the city health board, the members held the opinion that such action would be outside of its jurisdiction. The board of education is operating under a law compelling all children of proper age and healthful condition to attend school and has no power to compel vaccination.

STATE ASSOCIATION FIGHT NEW AUTO LAW

It is charged that the law is imperfect and full of inconsistencies.

GRANTED DIVORCE IN TWO MINUTES

Boston, March 24.—Clara A. Fournier, an attractive brunette, was granted a divorce from her husband, Edward, on grounds of desertion. It took Judge Thayer hardly more than two minutes to hear the evidence in the case and reach a decision.

Natally attired in dark clothing, with a neat hat and white collar, Mrs. Fournier spoke in subdued tones. She stated that she was married at the age of 16 to Fournier in Livermore, Me. She said Fournier deserted her in 1914. Mrs. Fournier conducts a manicuring and hair-dressing parlor.

"CINEMA NECK" NOTHING NEW

London, Mar. 24.—"Cinema neck is as old as the hills," says Dr. Octavia Lewin.

"Cinema neck might even be said to go back to the Garden of Eden. The act of gazing up at the apple above her head may have produced the distorted illusions which caused Eve to pick it.

"When one gazes upward, the head is forced back, the muscles of the throat are strained, the circulation of the back of the neck becomes congested and mouth breathing results."

Octavia fails to explain whether cinema neck is incurable.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

Leonard Wood Executive

Gen. Leonard Wood

OUT of 27 presidents of the United States, sixteen have been military men. Almost all the Presidents who have asked that war be declared by Congress had no military record and were known as pacifists.

Leonard Wood has had two objections raised against him as the next president of the United States. One of them is that he is too much of a military man, and the other is that he is not enough of a military man.

It is true that Leonard Wood is not a West Pointer. He was a physician by choice and a soldier by circumstance.

Educated in the public schools of Massachusetts, a graduate of Harvard University; devout in his religious training in the Episcopal Church, Leonard Wood stands for the family, for the home and for the decent life.

General Wood in his youth, under General Lawton, captured Geronimo in Arizona. Leonard Wood escaped the West Point training because he, like George Washington, entered the army from civil life, without special military training, and each resorted to military measures only as a last resort.

Won World Admiration Leonard Wood's military governorship, both in Cuba and the Philippines attracted the attention of all the civilized countries, for the very reason that his methods of reorganization were based on constructive, hygienic, legal and educational reforms, and were not forced upon the people by military pressure, he ever placing the civil administration above the military. Never before in the history of the world did any colonial administrator have in his methods so small an element of military compulsion.

Leonard Wood is an administrator of the highest attainments.

Executive ability is not confined to business men. The capacity to command an army, to clothe and feed it; to munition and doctor it; to move, and fight it, involves the highest order of executive skill. Wood found Cuba a military colony, suffering from centuries of misrule, plagued by yellow fever, torn by dissension, and discouraged by defeat in war. In four years he left it a clean, sanitary Anglo-Saxon republic.

Cromer's Opinion Governor-General Cromer, of England, the creator of modern Egypt, called Wood's achievement the greatest piece of colonial administration in all history. Wood has accomplished every task committed to him. He entered the Spanish-American war as leader of the Rough Riders. He came out a brigadier-general, and rose to chief of staff. He pacified the Moros in the Philippines; attended the maneuvers of the German and French Armies; foresaw the World War and prepared for it. Because he saw the nation's peril, he spoke his mind at the risk of the personal humiliation and punishment which followed.

After the war, a wave of unrest swept over the country. Race riots broke out at East St. Louis, Washington and Chicago, with a shocking loss of life, only to recur again at Omaha, when General Wood, with troops and tact ended the orgy of murder. Later at Gary, eighty thousand men struck. A mob of five thousand attacked the police, and within seventeen minutes of the time General Wood received the call for help from the Governor of Indiana, federal troops were on their way to that city. So tactfully and effectively did General Wood handle the situation that the workmen learned to love the man, who was in his own person the considerate father of law and order.

Wood's Self Control Washington was noted for his self-control and mastery of temper.

Compare this quality of Washington with the conduct of General Wood, when he came with the 89th Division from Camp Funston to New York and was waiting to embark for the European battlefields, but received, without previous intimation, a telegram ordering him to leave his men and "to go west" back to Camp Funston. Speaking to his astonished and disappointed troops, he said: "There is nothing to be said. These orders stand, and the only thing to do is to do the best we can to win the war."

Wood has always taken a deep interest and pride in men under him, and they, in turn, appreciate the ability, courage and sincerity of their commander and have a deep affection for him.

Needing Quick Action When the troops at Camp Funston suffered from the cold, Wood wired to the War Department for blankets, which indeed, any man might have done, but he did more, he asked for an answer within six hours, which was unusual. No answer came. He wired St. Louis, and by night, express trains, with the blankets for his freezing boys pulled into Camp Funston.

Wood has been constantly thrown in contact with the youth of the land and has not outgrown his own by dissipation and bad habits. Wood has been an "out-of-door" man. He has not been cloistered, conjugating verbs, and turning phrases. He says what he means and means what he says. He has roughed it in Arizona and in the Philippines, sleeping on the ground with his men and sharing their fare.

Wood and Roosevelt Wood, in an extempore address, referred to his friend, Theodore Roosevelt, in this fashion:

"Theodore Roosevelt was the most dominant and most inspiring character in American life since Abraham Lincoln. Why was he so? Because he stood for a square deal. He was honest, he was brave, he was true, he stood for the family, for the home, for the decent life; he respected women; he stood for the higher virtues; in time of peace he was a devoted public servant; in time of war he offered his life freely in the service of his country."

Has anyone said more about Roosevelt in so few and well-chosen words?

Thirty Years' Service Wood has been serving the whole country for thirty years at great personal sacrifice, and has not considered any monetary advantages.

Many of his countrymen believe that Wood is fit to lead it, now that it has become the most powerful nation in the world. His steady hand can guide the Ship of State; his seeing eye has the vision of its destiny, and his courageous heart is equal to the strain of the voyage it must take through the dangerous rapids of internationalism, in which, with a less capable captain, it may founder with its cargo of human happiness and hope, or, with him at the helm, mark the course of world history to the harbor of safety for ourselves and all other peoples.

Wood, the versatile, industrious, capable and kindly man, is candidate for the nomination as Republican candidate for President of the United States.

You are urged to cast a vote for Wood delegates at the Republican primaries on Tuesday, April 27, to elect the man who Theodore Roosevelt said, "Has shown himself one of the most useful and patriotic of American public servants, and has made all good Americans his debtor by what he has done."

MANY BELIEVE HOOVER WILL SOON DECIDE

Friends Think Dictator
Will Soon Make His
Position Clear.

New York, March 24—Close friends of Herbert Hoover here and in Washington would not be surprised that if in the near future the former food administrator decides to make clear once for all his position in national politics and the campaign of 1920.

These friends believe that this position will be substantially as follows: Herbert Hoover is a candidate for the Republican nomination for the presidency, but he emphatically is not a candidate to the extent of making a fight for the nomination and assimilating all the mud and rhetorical abuses which features a fight. He will not fight for it, but if it should be offered him he will accept it.

Mr. Hoover himself will neither deny nor affirm his reported intentions. Visitors to his office in lower Broadway who seek to learn the food administrator's political views and leanings are met with a circular letter which Mr. Hoover placed in the hands of his associates and aides in the American relief association absolutely forbidding them to talk politics. Occasionally it works.

The Republicans who are sponsoring the Hoover candidacy point out that thus far the only opposition to his candidacy has been voiced by Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, the "old guard" bulwark. Senator Penrose characterized Hoover as a "Wilsonian" Democrat.

Hoover is being touted in some Republican quarters as the "ideal compromise candidate" in the Republican party. Some foresee so hot a fight at Chicago that some compromise will be imperative. It is pointed out in this connection more or less significantly that Senator Hiram Johnson and Herbert Hoover and brother-Californians, are good friends and they are known to hold similar views on many subjects even if they differ on the treaty of Versailles.

The American relief commission of which Mr. Hoover is the head, is now winding up its affairs. By the time the politically hectic days of June roll around those affairs will practically be finished and he will be free from the charity work which his friends say, had kept him from thinking or acting in politics thus far. Mr. Hoover is going to be out of a job in June, so to speak and as regards a White House appointment it appears that "barkis is willin'".

CLEAN UP CAMPAIGN WILL BE BEGUN IN XENIA IN APRIL

A clean up and paint up campaign for this city will be conducted by the Chamber of Commerce through the Public Health Committee of that organization, during the latter part of April, according to an announcement made Wednesday morning.

The City Manager and the city commission will be asked to furnish extra teams if necessary, in gathering and disposing of rubbish taken from cellars, yards and alleys, and Health Officer Dr. R. H. Grube will also be invited to cooperate in the movement.

In an effort to make this years clean up campaign a live issue, and to secure all the help and cooperation possible, the Chamber of Commerce will also ask all organizations to cooperate in the attempt to produce sanitary conditions and efforts will be made to see that city ordinances affecting the general health of the people of this community are strictly adhered to. On this matter the Public Health Committee will work in connection with the Public Health Officer.

The clean up and paint up campaign is being arranged as a means of safeguarding health, promoting thrift, furthering fire prevention, beautifying the city and stimulating civic pride.

The exact dates of the campaign will be announced later.

MAGICIAN HOLDS LARGE AUDIENCE

Henry & Company, entertained a large audience at the opera house Tuesday night with his fascinating magic and his skill in chalk and sand art.

The entertainment was given under the auspices and for the benefit of McKinley Junior High School. Mr. Henry, who is a cousin of W. E. Borring of this city gave an excellent demonstration of magic which was bewildering to even the most skeptical. His chalk art was also used only by himself, in pictures made on a large board with the use of dry colored sand. Beautiful contrasts in colors were obtained by the use of the sand, and the picture showed artistry that defied the connoisseur.

"IT HAS MADE A NEW WOMAN OF ME"

That is What Mrs. Bartlett
Says After Taking
Tanlac.

"Tanlac is certainly a wonderful medicine to do what it has done for me," was the statement made the other day by Mrs. Frances Bartlett, who lives at 1106 Norwood Avenue, Toledo, Ohio.

"For the past five or six years I suffered so much from stomach trouble, nervousness and a general run down condition that I saw little pleasure in life," Mrs. Bartlett continued. "And then when I had the influenza over a year ago it left me so weak and miserable that I almost suffered a complete breakdown. I was unable to even sweep the floor, for I would give out completely and when my husband had to get me one to keep up the house it hurt me so that I almost gave up heart. My digestion was so bad that I nearly lost my appetite, and what I did eat bloated me up with gas and caused me to suffer agonies from pains in my stomach. Dizzy, nauseating spells would come over me suddenly and I would have to lie down wherever I happened to be. I was so weak and short-winded that I could not walk a full block without having to stop and rest. I was so nervous that for the past two years I had fallen off in weight, and was in such a miserable condition that I just hate to think what a wreck I was and can hardly understand how I held out as long as I did."

"About a month ago my husband came home with a bottle of Tanlac and said he had been hearing so much about it that he wanted me to try it. I began to improve right away and now, although I have taken only three bottles, I feel that I have been made over into a new woman. I eat just anything I want and am never troubled afterwards in the least. Those dizzy, nauseating spells don't bother me any more and I am again doing all my house work by myself. The nervousness has all left me and I am now enjoying sound restful sleep every night. Already I have gained eight pounds in weight and have more strength and energy than I have had in six years. I am just so happy over what Tanlac has done for me that I want to tell other suffering people about this medicine."

Tanlac is sold in Xenia by Sayre & Hemphill and in Yellow Springs by A. Finley.

CITY FIREMAN HAS MADE GAIN OF 20 POUNDS

Had Flu and Lost 48 Pounds
Before He Started Taking Vola-Tonic.

Fireman J. W. Jones, of Company No. 21, Cincinnati Fire Department, who lives at 1844 Westwood street, Cincinnati, has gained 20 pounds weight since he started taking Vola-Tonic, "Builder Of Strength."

"I was in a seriously weakened, run down condition when I got over the influenza last winter and I kept on losing weight until I had lost 48 pounds in all," Fireman Jones said.

"My appetite was almost completely gone and the little food I did eat didn't agree with me and didn't do me any good. Gas formed on my stomach after every meal and I was troubled with constipation, too. I had headaches nearly all the time. I have an excellent appetite since I have been taking Vola-Tonic and everything I eat digests perfectly. As a result I have gained 20 pounds. The constipation has disappeared and the headaches have left me."

"My wife took Vola-Tonic also after she had had influenza and it made a new woman of her."

"Both of us are satisfied that Vola-Tonic is just what we needed." Thousands of men and women praise Vola-Tonic just as highly as Fireman Jones does because of the strength and better health they have derived through its use. If you are feeling weak and run down try this medicine that has helped so many others.

You can get Vola-Tonic, "Builder Of Strength," in Xenia at Sayre and Hemphill's.

TELEPHONE POLE SET FIRE BY BURNING VINE

A dried vine, which burned to the top of a Bell telephone pole off Branch street, and set fire to the top of the pole, caused the fire department to make a run about 1 o'clock this morning. The pole was felled.

Mrs. John Coates who lives in the vicinity saw the fire and notified police about 10:30. Police notified the telephone exchange, and linemen were sent to the spot, but as the cross arm had burned off, allowing the wires to drop, there was nothing to do except fell the pole. Underbrush in the vicinity of the pole was burning Tuesday, and it is supposed the blaze smoldered its way through a vine to the top of the pole.

MANY BELIEVE HOOVER WILL SOON DECIDE

Friends Think Dictator
Will Soon Make His
Position Clear.

New York, March 24—Close friends of Herbert Hoover here and in Washington would not be surprised that if in the near future the former food administrator decides to make clear once for all his position in national politics and the campaign of 1920.

These friends believe that this position will be substantially as follows: Herbert Hoover is a candidate for the Republican nomination for the presidency, but he emphatically is not a candidate to the extent of making a fight for the nomination and assimilating all the mud and rhetorical abuses which features a fight. He will not fight for it, but if it should be offered him he will accept it.

Mr. Hoover himself will neither deny nor affirm his reported intentions. Visitors to his office in lower Broadway who seek to learn the food administrator's political views and leanings are met with a circular letter which Mr. Hoover placed in the hands of his associates and aides in the American relief association absolutely forbidding them to talk politics. Occasionally it works.

The Republicans who are sponsoring the Hoover candidacy point out that thus far the only opposition to his candidacy has been voiced by Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, the "old guard" bulwark. Senator Penrose characterized Hoover as a "Wilsonian" Democrat.

Hoover is being touted in some Republican quarters as the "ideal compromise candidate" in the Republican party. Some foresee so hot a fight at Chicago that some compromise will be imperative. It is pointed out in this connection more or less significantly that Senator Hiram Johnson and Herbert Hoover and brother Californians, are good friends and they are known to hold similar views on many subjects even if they differ on the treaty of Versailles.

The American relief commission of which Mr. Hoover is the head, is now winding up its affairs. By the time the politically hectic days of June roll around those affairs will practically be finished and he will be free from the charity work which his friends say, had kept him from thinking or acting in politics thus far. Mr. Hoover is going to be out of a job in June, so to speak and as regards a White House appointment it appears that "barkis is willin'."

CLEAN UP CAMPAIGN WILL BE BEGUN IN XENIA IN APRIL

A clean up and paint up campaign for this city will be conducted by the Chamber of Commerce through the Public Health Committee of that organization, during the latter part of April, according to an announcement made Wednesday morning.

The City Manager and the city commission will be asked to furnish extra teams if necessary, in gathering and disposing of rubbish taken from cellars, yards and alleys, and Health Officer Dr. R. H. Grube will also be invited to cooperate in the movement.

In an effort to make this years clean up campaign a live issue, and to secure all the help and cooperation possible, the Chamber of Commerce will also ask all organizations to cooperate in the attempt to produce sanitary conditions and efforts will be made to see that city ordinances affecting the general health of the people of this community are strictly adhered to. On this matter the Public Health Committee will work in connection with the Public Health Officer.

The clean up and paint up campaign is being arranged as a means of "safeguarding health, promoting thrift, furthering fire prevention, beautifying the city and stimulating civic pride."

The exact dates of the campaign will be announced later.

MAGICIAN HOLDS LARGE AUDIENCE

Henry & Company, entertained a large audience at the opera house Tuesday night with his fascinating magic and his skill in chalk and sand art.

The entertainment was given under the auspices and for the benefit of Mr. Kinley Junior High School. Mr. Henry, who is a cousin of W. E. Borring of this city gave an excellent demonstration of magic which was bewildering to even the most skeptical. His chalk art was also clever while he introduced a novel, used only by himself, in pictures made on a large board with the use of dry colors were obtained by the use of the sand, and the picture showed artistry that defied the connoisseur.

"IT HAS MADE A NEW WOMAN OF ME"

That is What Mrs. Bartlett
Says After Taking
Tanlac.

"Tanlac is certainly a wonderful medicine to do what it has done for me," was the statement made the other day by Mrs. Frances Bartlett, who lives at 1106 Norwood Avenue, Toledo, Ohio.

"For the past five or six years I suffered so much from stomach trouble, nervousness and a general run down condition that I saw little pleasure in life," Mrs. Bartlett continued. "And then when I had the influenza over a year ago it left me so weak and miserable that I almost suffered a complete breakdown, I was unable to even sweep the floor, for I would give out completely and when my husband had to get some one to keep up the house it hurt me so that I almost gave up heart. My digestion was so bad that I nearly lost my appetite, and what I did eat bloated me up with gas and caused me to suffer agonies from pains in my stomach. Dizzy, nauseating spells would come over me suddenly and I would have to lie down wherever I happened to be, I was so weak and short-winded that I could not walk a full block without having to stop and rest. I was so nervous that for the past two years I had fallen off in weight, and was in such a miserable condition that I just hate to think what a wreck I was and can hardly understand how I held out as long as I did."

"About a month ago my husband came home with a bottle of Tanlac and said he had been hearing so much about it that he wanted me to try it. I began to improve right away and now, although I have taken only three bottles, I feel that I have been made over into a new woman. I eat just anything I want and am never troubled afterwards in the least. Those dizzy, nauseating spells don't bother me any more and I am again doing all my house work by myself. The nervousness has all left me and I am now enjoying sound restful sleep every night. Already I have gained eight pounds in weight and have more strength and energy than I have had in six years. I am just so happy over what Tanlac has done for me that I want to tell other suffering people about this medicine."

Tanlac is sold in Xenia by Sayre & Hemphill and in Yellow Springs by A. Finley.

The Aftermath of Flu

This is No. 1 of a series of advertisements, prepared by a competent physician, explaining how certain diseases which attack the air passages—such as Pneumonia, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Measles or even a long continued Cold—often leave these organs in an inflamed, congested state, thus affording a favorable foothold for invading germs. And how Vicks' Vapo-Rub may be of value in this condition.

Your doctor will impress upon you that following recovery from the active stage of influenza, there often remains an inflamed, congested condition of the air passages—throat, larynx, bronchial tubes and lungs.

Frequently the cough hangs on—soreness of the chest persists—you take cold easily and there may be obstinate catarrh. This condition is slow to clear up and if neglected may favor the development of pneumonia, or later on, serious disease of the lungs. Such cases should continue under the care of their physician—should exercise moderately in the open air—eat plenty of wholesome food—avoid overwork and sudden chills.

Nightly applications of Vicks' Vapo-Rub may help nature to complete the process of repair. Because Vicks acts locally by stimulation thru the skin to draw out the inflammation, attract the blood away from the congested spots and relieve the cough. In addition, the medicinal ingredients of Vicks are vaporized by the body heat. These vapors are breathed in all night long, thus bringing the medication to bear directly upon the inflamed areas.

Vicks should be rubbed in over the throat and chest until the skin is red—then spread on thickly and covered with hot flannel cloths. Leave the clothing loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a funnel so the vapors arising may be freely inhaled. If the cough is annoying, swallow a small bit of Vicks the size of a pea.

Samples to new users will be sent free on request to the Vicks Chemical Company, 231 Broad Street, Greensboro, N. C.

HERBERT HOOVER JUST AS ANTI-WILSON AS HE WAS A YEAR AGO.

Herbert Hoover declared himself for the ratification of the treaty of Versailles and its acceptance by President Wilson with the reservations the Senate will insist upon. The alternatives—a continuation of a state of war for another year or the making of a separate peace with Germany—he characterized as "unthinkable."

Mr. Hoover's position was recently made plain in a statement issued in New York in answer to a direct inquiry from the Washington Star. It amounted to an appeal to the President to accept the best compromise the Senate will make as the only means of restoring to the world the processes of peace.

The former food administrator painted a gloomy picture of what will develop if peace is delayed and the controversy over the form of the treaty and the League of Nations covenant is carried on much longer. The world, Mr. Hoover asserted, is drifting back into a worse state of international antagonisms than existed in 1914, and only concerted action on the part of the United States can save the situation.

We have already given Mr. Hoover's "Get out of Europe lock, stock and barrel" opinion of a year ago. Today he is just as anti-Wilson as then, and wanted the Treaty adopted with the Lodge reservations. He says: "If the treaty is not adopted, our citizens would have no right in Germany or Austria. Our passports would not run there. We would have no proper equality in trade with a large portion of Europe. We do not need to be involved in scores of treaty commissions dealing with purely European matters."

"Another alternative, if we abandon this treaty, is that we ask Germany to negotiate a separate peace with us. Having thus isolated ourselves from the allies and withdrawn any consequential army from Europe, can we suppose that Germany will accept the Versailles terms from us? Will we resume fighting again? We shall be in the position of a nation which has abandoned its allies after having made an agreement with them, for the main allies of the treaty, as distinguished from the league, are not challenged even by reservations.

"In my view the soul of the league as an influence to the prevention of war may have died in world antagonism long before we can come to our presidential election."

EX-PRESIDENT TAFT CRITICIZES PRESIDENT WILSON AS FOLLOWS:

"In this country the marvel is that in spite of the exigency of the war the spirit of narrowest partisanship characterized the administration. No Republicans are responsible for any of its faults. The tide against it is everywhere. The depth of feeling against Mr. Wilson and his one-man government renders a change certain. The contrast between Mr. Wilson's position of prestige and influence when he first landed in Paris and his present isolation from the sympathy of any considerable group in the world is painful. The impatience with which men of affairs look forward to relieving the country from his dictatorship impresses itself on every one who travels. The sentiment is as strong in commercial centers of the South as elsewhere. The lip loyalty of the strictly partisan journals and of the officeholders does not mislead any one. Mr. Wilson's conduct in respect to the treaty, his breaking with one man after another associated with him in its making, his breach and the correspondence over it with Secretary Lansing and his evident imperviousness to popular opinion intensify the earnest desire of those who feel the heavy weight of taxation, who are convinced of the unnecessary waste of public funds and who note executive effort to continue arbitrary war powers, to oust him from control. Even organized labor having obtained much from this administration is resentful because it has not obtained more."

NO USE CRYING "PEACE, PEACE" WHEN THERE IS NO PEACE.

The Allies today are confronted with a double dilemma. In Germany and the United States they must deal with governments which, while officially speaking for the nation, apparently and actually do not represent the opinion of a united nation. The peace treaty's defeat in Washington has only added to the confusion. Although the Senate's action had been long discounted, the allied governments are in the unfortunate position of not knowing what attitude to take on pending questions with America. A London official expressing a quite general sentiment there and also reflecting the allied attitude said:

"Obviously we cannot ignore your President. We cannot say, 'Well, he doesn't speak for the nation and therefore anything he recommends is not to be considered.' So long as he is President we must respect his position, and trust that either he will have the power to back it up, or if not we will be left in the hole."

As for Germany, with radicals attacking the government and Ebert's position still insecure, the Allies are somewhat in a quandary to know how far to proceed in pressing Germany to enforce the Versailles treaty. Judging from the press, there is no doubt that allied opinion is very much divided between those who think the German revolution and the American Senate's action compel reconsideration of the Versailles pact, and others who are inclined to the view that the treaty must remain binding, to be enforced in the best possible way until an American election determines America's foreign policy. To say that Europe is up in the air between the revolution in Germany and the political situation in the United States is expressing conditions mildly. The governments are forced to a position where they must adopt a policy of watchful waiting, despite the dangers of such a policy at this critical period.

DAYLIGHT SAVING.

Thursday evening in regular session the city commission will have before it for passage or rejection a resolution aimed to put into effect a daylight saving plan for Xenia, a plan which is calculated to benefit the city, by avoiding confusion with other surrounding cities, which have already adopted the plan, and to permit of an extra hour of daylight for those who spend the majority of their time in office or factory.

The importance of this plan to city dwellers has been amply demonstrated during preceding seasons when the entire country was under its sway, and is sufficient argument in itself for re-establishment of the system in Xenia during the coming summer months.

The city commission by passing this resolution at its meeting this week can add another link to the long chain of constructive legislation which it has wrought for the city of Xenia, and this will be facilitated by a direct expression of public sentiment, which the Gazette and Republican are getting through a straw vote conducted by these papers. An overwhelming vote in favor of the project will undoubtedly carry great weight with the commission.

Rippling Rhymes

Walt Mason

CHEERFUL TALK.
I DO not talk of sorrow, I'm chipper, blithe and gay; and of a bright tomorrow I spring my spiel today; for folks are tired of hearing of doubting and of fearing; they long for something cheering to shoo the gloom away. As I go daily drilling along Commercial Street, no voters hear me trilling a lay of frigid feet; I do no mournful yellin', I boost the world we dwell in, the world we're raising Hail Columbia in, and say it's good as wheat. Oh, men would rather listen to silly jays like me, whose adjectives all glisten with merriment and glee than hear the griefsmiths blowing more melancholy growing, the while their tears are flowing in rivers to the sea. Men work and they are weary, they fret and they are sad; and hopeful words and cheery may help to make them glad; and so the sunshine grafter who strives to kick up laughter, though he seems daft and daffier, is really not so bad.

CHATTER

"What are you fishing for, little boy?"

"Sharks."

"But there are no sharks in that little pond."

"No—nor nothing else, so I might just as well fish for sharks."

A middle-aged couple in the audience at a photoplay theater watched with interest a series of beautifully colored travel pictures showing life in China.

Women were seen carrying large burdens.

"I suppose the men there are just like they are everywhere else," the wife said.

The man made no reply.

Women were next seen driving oxen in the fields.

"Men are men the world over," the feminine spectator observed.

The new view showed men sitting on the bank of a river watching women washing clothing in the water.

"Huh."

Several more pictures were shown and then came one in which a meek little man was seen playing "nurse" for a baby while the mother was gossiping with several of her friends.

"Well," said the woman in the audience, "if I ever get married again I think I'll pick me out a Chinaman."

"Why all the muss? Everything in the shop seems to have been pulled down."

"It was Mrs. De Fashion. She's very particular about what she puts on her back."

"Well?"

"And I had to show porous plaster as if I were running a style shop."

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Mr. A. S. Frazer is unable to be on duty at the Xenia National Bank today, being confined to his home by illness.

Mr. John Simison, fireman at the Xenia shoe factory, is quite proud over the arrival at his home last night of a little shoemaker.

Friends of Charles H. Kyle are glad to see him at his office after being confined to his home by illness for two weeks.

Mr. Howard Jones who has had a tussle with the grip is now recovering and expects to come to the store on Monday.

Prof. Wm. McPherson, instructor in chemistry at the Ohio State University, arrived in this city this morning for a visit with his brother Auditor J. H. McPherson and family.

Mr. John Barnett, the saw mill man, has returned from a trip of several weeks in the south where he went on a little prospecting tour.

Mr. S. O. Hale, county clerk elect, had several of his toes mashed when a gravel car on the Bellbrook line of the D. & X. traction on which he was riding, jumped the track last evening.

Is It Yours

This is the Birthday of Alexander Becquerel March 24, 1820

Becquerel is the name of a noted French family, several members of which achieved great distinction in chemical and physical research. At one period in the history of the family this research work was handed down from father to son as a sacred trust.

Antoine Becquerel, the father of Alexandre, gave up a military career to devote his life to scientific investigation.

He wrote a great many books most of them on electricity and magnetism and was a professor of physics at the Musee d'Histoire Naturel.

His son Alexandre was born in Paris, March 24, 1820, and was first the pupil of his father, later his assistant, and finally his successor to the much coveted professorship. He carried out his father's work but devoted himself particularly to the study of light, and to the phenomena of phosphorescence. He died in Paris on the 11th of May, 1891.

He had a son named Antoine after his grandfather, who followed in the footsteps of his distinguished family. He also was first pupil and finally successor to the professorship at the Musee. He became distinguished as the discoverer of radio-activity, and at one time was given the Nobel prize. He also made a special study of magnetism. He died at a little town in Brittany in 1908.

HERBERT HOOVER JUST AS ANTI-WILSON AS HE WAS A YEAR AGO.

Herbert Hoover declared himself for the ratification of the treaty of Versailles and its acceptance by President Wilson with the reservations the Senate will insist upon. The alternatives—a continuation of a state of war for another year or the making of a separate peace with Germany—he characterized as "unthinkable."

Mr. Hoover's position was recently made plain in a statement issued in New York in answer to a direct inquiry from the Washington Star. It amounted to an appeal to the President to accept the best compromise the Senate will make as the only means of restoring to the world the processes of peace.

The former food administrator painted a gloomy picture of what will develop if peace is delayed and the controversy over the form of the treaty and the League of Nations covenant is carried on much longer. The world, Mr. Hoover asserted, is drifting back into a worse state of international antagonisms than existed in 1914, and only concerted action on the part of the United States can save the situation.

We have already given Mr. Hoover's "Get out of Europe lock, stock and barrel" opinion of a year ago. Today he is just as anti-Wilson as then, and wanted the Treaty adopted with the Lodge reservations. He says: "If the treaty is not adopted, our citizens would have no right in Germany or Austria. Our passports would not run there. We would have no proper equality in trade with a large portion of Europe. We do not need to be involved in scores of treaty commissions dealing with purely European matters."

"Another alternative, if we abandon this treaty, is that we ask Germany to negotiate a separate peace with us. Having thus isolated ourselves from the allies and withdrawn any consequential army from Europe, can we suppose that Germany will accept the Versailles terms from us? Will we resume fighting again? We shall be in the position of a nation which has abandoned its allies after having made an agreement with them, for the main lines of the treaty, as distinguished from the league, are not challenged even by reservations.

"In my view the soul of the league as an influence to the prevention of war may have died in world antagonism long before we can come to our presidential election."

EX-PRESIDENT TAFT CRITICISES PRESIDENT WILSON AS FOLLOWS:

"In this country the marvel is that in spite of the exigency of the war the spirit of narrowest partisanship characterized the administration. No Republicans are responsible for any of its faults. The tide against it is everywhere. The depth of feeling against Mr. Wilson and his one-man government renders a change certain. The contrast between Mr. Wilson's position of prestige and influence when he first landed in Paris and his present isolation from the sympathy of any considerable group in the world is painful. The impatience with which men of affairs look forward to relieving the country from his dictatorship impresses itself on every one who travels. The sentiment is as strong in commercial centers of the South as elsewhere. The lip loyalty of the strictly partisan journals and of the officeholders does not mislead any one. Mr. Wilson's conduct in respect to the treaty, his breaking with one man after another associated with him in its making, his breach and the correspondence over it with Secretary Lansing and his evident imperviousness to popular opinion intensify the earnest desire of those who feel the heavy weight of taxation, who are convinced of the unnecessary waste of public funds and who note executive effort to continue arbitrary war powers, to oust him from control. Even organized labor having obtained much from this administration is resentful because it has not obtained more."

NO USE CRYING "PEACE, PEACE" WHEN THERE IS NO PEACE.

The Allies today are confronted with a double dilemma. In Germany and the United States they must deal with governments which, while officially speaking for the nation, apparently and actually do not represent the opinion of a united nation. The peace treaty's defeat in Washington has only added to the confusion. Although the Senate's action had been long discounted, the allied governments are in the unfortunate position of not knowing what attitude to take on pending questions with America.

A London official expressing a quite general sentiment there and also reflecting the allied attitude said:

"Obviously we cannot ignore your President. We cannot say, 'Well, he doesn't speak for the nation and therefore anything he recommends is not to be considered.' So long as he is President we must respect his position, and trust that either he will have the power to back it up, or if not we will be left in the hole."

As for Germany, with radicals attacking the government and Ebert's position still insecure, the Allies are somewhat in a quandary to know how far to proceed in pressing Germany to enforce the Versailles treaty. Judging from the press, there is no doubt that allied opinion is very much divided between those who think the German revolution and the American Senate's action compel reconsideration of the Versailles pact, and others who are inclined to the view that the treaty must remain binding, to be enforced in the best possible way until an American election determines America's foreign policy. To say that Europe is up in the air between the revolution in Germany and the political situation in the United States is expressing conditions mildly. The governments are forced to a position where they must adopt a policy of watchful waiting, despite the dangers of such a policy at this critical period.

DAYLIGHT SAVING.

Thursday evening in regular session the city commission will have before it for passage or rejection a resolution aimed to put into effect a daylight saving plan for Xenia, a plan which is calculated to benefit the city, by avoiding confusion with other surrounding cities, which have already adopted the plan, and to permit of an extra hour of daylight for those who spend the majority of their time in office or factory.

The importance of this plan to city dwellers has been amply demonstrated during preceding seasons when the entire country was under its sway, and is sufficient argument in itself for re-establishment of the system in Xenia during the coming summer months.

The city commission by passing this resolution at its meeting this week can add another link to the long chain of constructive legislation which it has wrought for the city of Xenia, and this will be facilitated by a direct expression of public sentiment, which the Gazette and Republican are getting through a straw vote conducted by these papers. An overwhelming vote in favor of the project will undoubtedly carry great weight with the commission.

CHEERFUL TALK.

I DO not talk of sorrow, I'm chipper, blithe and gay; and of a bright tomorrow I spring my spiel today; for folks are tired of hearing of doubting and of fearing; they long for something cheering to shoo the gloom away. As I go daily drilling along Commercial Street, no voters hear me trilling a lay of frigid feet; I do no mournful yellin'. I boost the world we dwell in, the world we're raising Hail Columbia in, and say it's good as wheat. Oh, the men would rather listen to silly jays like me, whose adjectives all glisten with merit and gleam than hear the griefsmithe blowing more melancholy growing, the while their tears are flowing in rivers to the sea. Men work and they are weary, they fret and they are sad; and hopeful words and cheery may help to make them glad; and so the sunshine grafter who strives to kick up laughter, though he seems daft and dafter, is really not so bad.

CHATTER

"What are you fishing for, little boy?"
"Sharks!"
"But there are no sharks in that little pond."

"No—nor nothing else, so I might just as well fish for sharks."

A middle-aged couple in the audience at a photograph theater watched with interest a series of beautifully colored travel pictures showing life in China.

Women were seen carrying large burdens.

"I suppose the men there are just like they are everywhere else," the wife said.

The man made no reply. Women were next seen driving oxen in the fields.

"Men are men the world over," the feminine spectator observed.

The new view showed men sitting on the bank of a river watching women washing clothing in the water.

"Huh."

Several more pictures were shown and then came one in which a meek little man was seen playing "nurse girl" for a baby while the mother was gossiping with several of her friends.

"Well," said the woman in the audience, "if I ever get married again I think I'll pick me out a Chinaman."

"Why all the muss? Everything in the shop seems to have been pulled down."

"It was Mrs. De Fashion. She's very particular about what she puts on her back."

"Well?"

"And I had to show porous plaster as if I were running a style shoe."

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Mr. A. S. Frazer is unable to be on duty at the Xenia National Bank today, being confined to his home by illness.

Mr. John Simison, fireman at the Xenia shoe factory, is quite proud over the arrival at his home last night of a little shoemaker.

Friends of Charles H. Kyle are glad to see him at his office after being confined to his home by illness for two weeks.

Mr. Howard Jones who has had a tussle with the grip is now recovering and expects to come to the store on Monday.

Prof. Wm. McPherson, instructor in chemistry at the Ohio State University, arrived in this city this morning for a visit with his brother Auditor J. H. McPherson and family.

Mr. John Barnett, the saw mill man, has returned from a trip of several weeks in the south where he went on a little prospecting tour.

Mr. S. O. Hale, county clerk elect, had several of his toes mashed when a gravel car on the Bellbrook line of the D & X. traction on which he was riding, jumped the track last evening.

In The REALM of SPORTS In The Spot-Light LOCAL AND NATIONAL

Larry Doyle.

By NORMAN E. BROWN

Larry Doyle, veteran infielder, announces that he found, last winter the fountain of youth which Ponce de Leon and about ninety million other birds sought in vain. Said spring was in Cuba, he avers, and he states that, as a result of a winter on the sunny island he is set to play second base for the Giants as he played at his best, before age began to slow him up a bit.

Before Doyle reported to the Giants this spring McGraw had about made up his mind that he would have to develop a youngster for the second sack, but now he means to start Doyle at the position and give him a chance to demonstrate the hope that he is "ten years younger."

Doyle was born at Caseyville, Ill., which may have been named after the guy that struck out. Larry is thirty-four now and has been in baseball since 1905, when he started out with Mattoon in the Eastern Illinois league. He joined Springfield in the Three Eye league in 1907 and was sold in June, that year, to the Giants for the reported price of $4,500. He became the Giants' regular second sacker and next season and starred through the following campaign until traded to Chicago on August 28, 1916, with Hunter and Jacobs for Zimmerman. His usefulness with the Cubs was shortlived as he sustained a broken leg in a game on September 9. He was with the Cubs the following season, but on January 4, 1918, was traded with Wilson and $15,000 cash for Lefty Tyler of the Braves. Four days later Larry was told to pack up again and was traded to the Giants with Jess Barnes for Buck Harzog.

Doyle always has been there with the stick. He broke into the .300 class in five campaigns while with the Giants the first time. His stick-work, his spectacular and steady fielding and his baseball brains helped McGraw to land the National league flag three years in a row.

WINNER IN SLOGAN CONTEST SUBMITS NOVEL WORDING

X—enia
E—ducation
N—eeds
I—deal
A—bodes.

This slogan, originated by Isadore Hyman, a Senior at Central High School, won first prize in the slogan for the new high school contest which was conducted in Central, McKinley and Lincoln High Schools.

The winner of the contest was awarded the prize of $5, which was offered for the best slogan, Tuesday afternoon and his effort was picked from about 300 or 400 slogans turned in by the school children.

The choice was not easily decided upon by the judges as there were many good slogans, some of which will probably be used in the campaign for the new building which will be launched soon.

The following slogans were picked by the judges as being worthy of honorable mention:
"Help! Help! Rescue us from the wreckage!" submitted by Helen Riley.
"We've got the earth—Get the building," submitted by Mary Fuller.

MOTHERHOOD WOMAN'S RIGHT

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helps to Make Women Normal.

Washington, Ind.—"I was in such a condition that I never expected to have children and my aunt advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It improved my health and restored a normal condition of my system so that I now have a fine baby. Until she was about a year old I was very nervous, and all the time thinking something terrible was going to happen. If I heard anyone coming, my heart would beat fast and I wanted to run. So I took the Vegetable Compound again and it helped me wonderfully. You may publish my letter as the medicine is surely great." Mrs. I. V. BANTA, R. R. No. 4, Box 24, Washington, Ind.

Among the virtues of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is its ability to correct sterility in many cases. This fact is well established as evidenced by the above letter and hundreds of others we have published in these columns.

In many other homes, once childless, there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

Sayre & Hemphill, Druggists.

that made the decision a hard one for the judges.

While many of the slogans submitted contained good ideas there were many that were amusing if not exactly to the point. Some of these are given: "Ask the boy that's had one," "An unshakable high school or bust," "I'm here to be a man," "Who invented the school?" "Tear down the rickety shack," and "We have Fords, why not schools."

The committee of judges was composed of Secretary L. C. Tingley of the Chamber of Commerce, Rev. Albert Burke, pastor of St. Brigid's church, R. E. Holmes, East End business man and R. A. Higgins, of the Gazette and Republican.

VESSEL REPORTED SINKING OFF FRANCE

New York, March 24.—The American steamship Rock Island Bridge, with a number of Boston men in her crew, was today reported to be in a sinking condition off the coast of France. According to the reports the steamer, which sailed from Portland, Me., on Feb. 20, the first boat in the new service to Antwerp and Rotterdam, was sinking rapidly and sending out S. O. S. calls.

GLEE CLUB WILL RENDER CONCERT

A concert is to be given by the Miami University Glee Club, at the opera house, on the evening of April 3, under the auspices of the Sophomore class of Central high school.

The personnel of the club is made up exclusively of ex-service men, and upper classmen of the university. It will offer a program of great variety, including choruses, quartettes, solos and instrumental numbers, both classical and popular. A pleasing feature will be the singing of Miami songs, and to bring the program to a rousing finish, there will be the inevitable jazz orchestra. The club is fortunate this year in having seven young men who in addition to being good musicians have the rare gift of being able to play popular music in an interesting manner.

FOCH WOULD ENTER INTO RUHR DISTRICT

Paris, March 24.—Marshal Foch has asked the council of ambassadors for permission to enter the Ruhr district of Germany with 80,000 allied troops. It was learned from an authoritative source today. Hugh Wallace, the United States ambassador, is reported to have rejected the request, but the British ambassador is said to be supporting it.

After opposition developed to this proposal Marshal Foch then asked permission to send 50,000 troops into the Ruhr district, but this request was refused also.

The council of ambassadors has agreed, however, that the French should be allowed to occupy Frankfurt if the negotiations between the Mayor of Essen and President Ebert at Berlin fail.

(Essen is held by the Spartacists.)

PROBE INTO CITY OFFICIALS WORK IN SPRINGFIELD

Springfield, O., March 24.—Charges that there was a plot to enrich City Commissioner John D. Frock by electing C. C. Woodward, former deputy sheriff to the office of sheriff and gain control of the city gambling places, were made by Grover Fleming under cross examination at the trial of City Commissioner John D. Frock in Probate court yesterday.

Additional charges were made by Fleming that Frock declared he would run a Westside leaguer, a Municipal leaguer and a Southside leaguer in the next campaign and would control the city and instead of being but one member of the commission he would be the mayor. Sheriff James L. Welch late last night related a story told him by a "citizen of Springfield" corroborating the statement that C. C. Woodward had accepted $25 from Ed. Whitmer to allow gambling games to run in the West End of the city during the time the sheriff was a patient in the city hospital.

Larry Doyle

By NORMAN E. BROWN

Larry Doyle, veteran infielder, announces that he found, last winter the fountain of youth which Ponce de Leon and about ninety million other birds sought in vain. Said spring was in Cuba, he avers, and he states that, as a result of a winter on the sunny island he is set to play second base for the Giants as he played at his best, before age began to slow him up a bit.

Before Doyle reported to the Giants this spring McGraw had about made up his mind that he would have to develop a youngster for the second sack, but now he means to start Doyle at the position and give him a chance to demonstrate the hope that he is "ten years younger."

Doyle was born at Caseyville, Ill., which may have been named after the guy that struck out. Larry is thirty-four now and has been in baseball since 1905, when he started out with Mattoon in the Eastern Illinois league. He joined Springfield in the Three Eye league in 1907 and was sold in June, that year, to the Giants for the reported price of $4,500. He became the Giants' regular second sacker and next season and started through the following campaign until traded to Chicago on August 28, 1916, with Hunter and Jacobs for Zimmerman. His usefulness with the Cubs was shortlived as he sustained a broken leg in a game on September 9. He was with the Cubs the following season, but on January 4, 1918, was traded with Wilson and $15,000 cash for Lefty Tyler of the Braves. Four days later Larry was told to pack up again and was traded to the Giants with Jess Barnes for Buck Harzog.

Doyle always has been there with the stick. He broke into the 300 class in five campaigns while with the Giants the first time. His stickwork, his spectacular and steady fielding and his baseball brains helped McGraw to land the National League flag three years in a row.

With house cleaning time at hand you need Killo, the modern disinfectant and insect destroyer. Killo cleans scientifically. Its fumes are death to moths, roaches, bedbugs, ants and any of the other pests that annoy the housekeeper, while harmless to human beings. Sprinkle a little Killo in closets, sinks, drains and wherever else disease germs or insect life may flourish. Deodorant and disinfectant, 15c and 25c a can. It is especially fine for chicken lice and gapes in chickens.

WINNER IN SLOGAN CONTEST SUBMITS NOVEL WORDING

This slogan, originated by Isadore Hyman, a Senior at Central High School, won first prize in the slogan for the new high school contest which was conducted in Central, McKinley and Lincoln High Schools.

The winner of the contest was awarded the prize of $5, which was offered for the best slogan. Tuesday afternoon and his effort was picked from about 300 or 400 slogans turned in by the school children. The choice was not easily decided upon by the judges as there were many good slogans, some of which will probably be used in the campaign for the new building which will be launched soon.

The following slogans were picked by the Judges as being worthy of honorable mention:

"Help! Help! Rescue us from the wreckage!" submitted by Helen Riley.

"We've got the earth—Get the building," submitted by Mary Fuller.

"Think IT OVER," by Don Finley.

Put "Build a Palace for King Education," Vincent Roundtree.

Many others showed the effect of much thought and clever wording.

MOTHERHOOD WOMAN'S RIGHT

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helps to Make Women Normal.

Washington, Ind.—"I was in such a condition that I never expected to have children and my aunt advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It improved my health and restored a normal condition of my system so that I now have a fine baby. Until she was about a year old I was very nervous, and all the time thinking something terrible was going to happen. If I heard anyone coming, my heart would beat fast and I wanted to run. So I took the Vegetable Compound again and it helped me wonderfully. You may publish my letter as the medicine is surely great."—Mrs. I. V. BANTA, R. R. No. 4, Box 24, Washington, Ind.

Among the virtues of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is its ability to correct sterility in many cases. This fact is well established as evidenced by the above letter and hundreds of others we have published in these columns.

In many other homes, once childless, there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

Sayre & Hemphill, Druggists.

that made the decision a hard one for the judges.

While many of the slogans submitted contained good ideas there were many that were amusing if not exactly to the point. Some of these are given: "Ask the boy that's had one," "An unshakable high school or bust," "I'm here to be a man," "Who invented the school?" "Tear down the rickety shack," and "We have Ford's, why not schools."

The committee of judges was composed of Secretary L. C. Tingley of the Chamber of Commerce, Rev. Albert Burke, pastor of St. Brigid's church, R. E. Holmes, East End business man and R. A. Higgins, of the Gazette and Republican.

According to the reports the steamer, which said from Portland, Me., on Feb. 20, the first boat in the new service to Antwerp and Rotterdam, was sinking rapidly and sending out S. O. S. calls.

GLEE CLUB WILL RENDER CONCERT

A concert is to be given by the Miami University Glee Club, at the opera house, on the evening of April 3, under the auspices of the Sophomore class of Central high school.

The personnel of the club is made up exclusively of ex-service men, and upper classmen of the university. It will offer a program of great variety, including choruses, quartettes, solos and instrumental numbers, both classical and popular. A pleasing feature will be the singing of Miami songs, and to bring the program to a rousing finish, there will be the inevitable jazz orchestra. The club is fortunate this year in having seven young men who in addition to being good musicians have the rare gift of being able to play popular music in an interesting manner.

FOCH WOULD ENTER INTO RUHR DISTRICT

Paris, March 24.—Marshal Foch has asked the council of ambassadors for permission to enter the Ruhr district of Germany with 80,000 allied troops, it was learned from an authoritative source today. Hugh Wallace, the United States ambassador, is reported to have rejected the request, but the British ambassador is said to be supporting it.

After opposition developed to this proposal Marshal Foch then asked permission to send 50,000 troops into the Ruhr district, but this request was refused also.

The council of ambassadors has agreed, however, that the French should be allowed to occupy Frankfurt if the negotiations between the Mayor of Essen and President Ebert at Berlin fail.

PROBE INTO CITY OFFICIALS WORK IN SPRINGFIELD

Springfield, O., March 24.—Charges that there was a plot to enrich City Commissioner John D. Frock by electing C. C. Woodward, former deputy sheriff to the office of sheriff and gain control of the city gambling places, were made by Grover Fleming under cross examination at the trial of City Commissioner John D. Frock in Probate court yesterday.

Additional charges were made by Fleming that Frock declared he would run a Westside league, a Municipal league and a Southside league in the next campaign and would control the city and instead of being but one member of the commission he would be the mayor. Sheriff James L. Welch late last night related a story told him by a "citizen of Springfield" corroborating the statement that C. C. Woodward had accepted $25 from Ed. Whitmer to allow gambling games to run in the West End of the city during the time the sheriff was a patient in the city hospital.

CHANGING YOUR SURROUNDINGS
This is the time of the year when many of us are seized with that discontented feeling known as Spring Fever. We are tired of our old clothes and our old homes, sometimes even of our old friends. We want to get away and we ought to.

The trouble is, most of us can't. So the only thing to do, since we cannot get away to new surroundings is to change the surroundings we already live in. The only thing I know of that may be said in favor of spring house-cleaning is that it results in changing to a certain extent, the two changing to a certain extent, the two.

So if you feel that a trip would do your nerves good, and you can't afford it, try instead a little interior decoration in your own home. It will cost much less than traveling and will frequently be quite as effective. As a suggestion, see how many useless objects and ornaments can be thrown away.

Magazines, souvenirs, vases, calendars and other ornaments are apt to collect and clutter up a house and incidentally, to complicate the problem of keeping it clean. Try taking down a lot of pictures and putting away a little used pieces of furniture and let your eyes rest on large bare spaces. I use the word "rest" on purpose, because a room full of objects is actually tiring to the eye sight.

Try the effect of new cretonne. There is nothing that will help more in dressing up a shabby room. A few yards of cretonne will transform the doors and windows and make new the shabby old couch, and its shabby pillows.

By such simple methods as new

Cretonnes will brighten a shabby room.

Heart and Home Problems

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I will be eighteen years old in June this year. I am in love with a fellow who is twenty-four. Although I have known him for about two years, it is not until lately that we have been going out together. He takes me out often and I think a great deal of him.

We have decided to get married when I am nineteen years old. Do you think I am too young?

He is alone in this country and although I am young I am willing to give him a home which he could call his own. BROWN EYES.

Yes, I think you are too young to be engaged. Your plan to wait until you are nineteen years of age is good. After a year together you will have more reason to be sure of your own. Besides, a year will give the young man time in which to save money so that he can provide a home for you. Your idea of making a home or him is sweet and unselfish, but it would take a good deal of money in these days of high prices.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am eighteen years old and in love with a young man of twenty. Mother refuses to let me go with him. She says I am too young and she wants me to forget him.

I might be too young, but I know I can't forget him. I love to see him and be with him, but I have a hard time getting a chance to go with him.

Should I give him up or what should I do? A SENIOR.

You are old enough to have boy friends. Judgment should be shown, however, in the friends you pick out. Trust your mother's opinion for a year or two. You will forget in time if you give up this young man. Whatever you do, be open and above board and do not deceive your mother. It would be better to defy her than to be dishonorable. One day.

honest act might only lead to more.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I will be eighteen this week. I am a senior in high school and am very deeply in love with a boy who is about five years my senior. He also loves me and wants, at some time in the near future when he is able to care for me, to marry.

My mother says she does not have any objection to him, but she objects to my going with him. We are planning on being separated this summer to test our love. Do you approve of this?

I do not approve of dancing, society and frilly ways of dressing, and my lover is of the same opinion as I. I long for a home of my own and also to get out of school work, although I never fall below eighty-five. I love home work. Do you think if the test proves our love to be true, we would be safe in becoming man and wife? C. L. BROWN EYES.

I believe the separation will be a good thing and will help you to realize better how much you mean to each other. Do not marry until he is well able to support a wife. The cost of living is so high that unless you get a good start there is little chance of your being happy. At eighteen or nineteen you will be very young to marry. I cannot venture an opinion as to whether or not you will be happy together.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: My mother is dead and I am living with relatives. I am in love with a boy my age. I cannot bear to be around other boys, but will not run after this one. Would it be proper for me to ask him to go to a party? I have known him five months and he is the only fellow I have gone with. T. P.

It will be all right to invite him to the party.

HIGH NECKS AND LOW HEELS GOOD

Kane, Pa., March 23.—Mrs. Catherine Sellin on the occasion of her ninety fifth birthday advised girls who wishes to live long to "cut out low necks and high heels."

"To enjoy a long life and good health a girl must observe simple rules," Mrs. Sellin said. "She must eat slowly, breathe deeply, get lots of sleep, never expose her throat by low necks and must not wear extremely high heels. Exercise is important and of all exercise there is none better than digging in the soil. The best thing for a girl's health is for her to put on loose overalls and go out and plant a garden in the season. Housework is sufficient in the winter."

No Other Light Car Offers So Much

Unusual power and control, quick pick-up and extraordinary acceleration to real speed, are features inherent in the Cleveland Six and features with which Cleveland owners are delighted.

Many a Cleveland Six owner has said, "It would be hard to tell you what a good car the Cleveland honestly is. It's wonderful."

The Cleveland is wonderful because it is a splendidly developed and finished product, not a car rushed into the market. Three years ago the plans for production of this car were far advanced. But, with war approaching, production and marketing were delayed though experimental and engineering work were continued and test cars kept on the road. When war ended, came the Cleveland.

Built in a fine big factory, with all conditions and equipment assuring the very best of manufacture, and built by men whose successful experience had been wholly in the production of fine cars, the Cleveland Six began rolling out to the world last August. Since then thousands have gone to delighted owners, and thousands more are going every month.

There isn't any other light car that will give you so much of all that you wish, and at such a fair price.

No Other Light Car Offers So Much

Unusual power and control, quick pick-up and extraordinary acceleration to real speed, are features inherent in the Cleveland Six and features with which Cleveland owners are delighted. Many a Cleveland Six owner has said, "It would be hard to tell you what a good car the Cleveland honestly is. It's wonderful."

The Cleveland is wonderful because it is a splendidly developed and finished product, not a car rushed into the market. Three years ago the plans for production of this car were far advanced. But, with war approaching, production and marketing were delayed though experimental and engineering work were continued and test cars kept on the road. When war ended, came the Cleveland.

HIGH NECKS AND LOW HEELS GOOD

Kane, Pa., March 23.—Mrs. Catherine Selin on the occasion of her ninety-fifth birthday advised girls who wish to live long to "cut out low necks and high heels."

"To enjoy a long life and good health a girl must observe simple rules," Mrs. Selin said. "She must eat slowly, breathe deeply, get lots of sleep, never expose her throat by low necks and must not wear extremely high heels. Exercise is important and of all exercise there is none better than digging in the soil. The best thing for a girl's health is for her to put on loose overalls and go out and plant a garden in the season. Housework is sufficient in the winter."

Rev. William T. McKinney of Clifton will preach in the First Presbyterian church this Wednesday evening at 7:30. All are cordially invited to attend the service.

It will be all right to invite him to the party

The headache is often replaced by an inflammation of the eyelids, especially in young and healthy persons who also have a little conjunctivitis with a feeling of tension or fullness in the eyes which may become real pain of a dull aching character, the eyeballs being very tender on pressure.

Sometimes there are vertigo and sickness, with dyspepsia, palpitation, and even difficulty in breathing. Sleeplessness is a very frequent symptom to the excessive flow of blood to the brain and in part to the low tone of the whole nervous system.

The wounded: Patrolman Marksbury, shot through the breast, taken to St. Elizabeth hospital.

Albert W. Jones, 36, South Kilmer street, shot through the leg. Wysong, in company with Jones and B. L. Butts, 2109 Home avenue, had gone to Lakeside, where Mrs. Wysong was attending a dance. They parked the car at the corner of Germantown street and Lakeview avenue. When they returned the car was missing.

The men hurried to police headquarters where they reported the theft and returned to scene in Butts' machine to see if the car had been abandoned in the neighborhood. They espied Wysong's car standing along the curb on Lakeview.

In the meantime Officers L. L. Marksbury, who had only been on the force four days, and A. F. Oberer received the report of the theft and discovered the car standing on Lakeview. Marksbury was in plain clothes and was instructed to remain with the car while Oberer went to a telephone to notify police headquarters.

When the young men discovered Wysong's car they jumped from their machine and thinking the officer was a thief ordered him to get out of the machine. Jones told police he did not know who fired the first shot, but that he secured a revolver from the rear of Wysong's car and fired once. Several shots were exchanged and Wysong

ARMENIANS BEING MURDERED BY TURKS

New York, March 24.—Ten thousand Armenians were slaughtered by Turks in a single outbreak 100 miles north of Aleppo, according to John Dunaway, of Swarthmore, Pa., a relief worker, who arrived today on the liner LaSavoie, after 18 months in Turkey. Mr. Dunaway said the massacre occurred a few days after he started home. The relief worker accused Great Britain of blocking every effort to settle effectually the Turkish question for political reasons. He said that American relief workers who tried to rescue Armenian girls from Moslem homes were stopped by British officers. Mr. Dunaway said that the alliance of Turks and Arabs will mean a terrible menace for Christians in Turkey.

Don't Let Catarrh Drag You into Consumption

Avoid Its Dangerous Stage.

There is a more serious stage of Catarrh than the annoyance caused by the stopped-up air passages, and the hawking and spitting and other distasteful features.

The real danger comes from the tendency of the disease to continue its course downward until the lungs become affected, and then dreaded consumption is on your path. Your own experience has taught you that the disease cannot be cured by sprays, inhalers, jellies and other local applications.

S. S. S. has proven a most satisfactory remedy for Catarrh because it goes direct to its source, and tends to remove the germs of the disease from the blood. Get a bottle from your druggist today, and begin the only logical treatment that gives real results. For free medical advice write to Medical Director, 104 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

Brenlin
the long-wearing window shade material

Be sure the window shades you buy won't crack and break!

Ordinary window shade material is made of coarse muslin which is filled with chalk and clay. The wear of daily usage causes this filling to loosen and fall out, leaving the shade full of cracks and pinholes.

But Brenlin wears and wears

Brenlin is made of fine, closely woven cloth which contains not a particle of chalk, or clay, or other filling.

It wears and wears. Hangs smooth and straight. No cracks, no pinholes deface it!

Tinted with the finest, fast colors Brenlin Window Shades will not spot in the rain nor fade in the sun. They wear three times as long as ordinary shades.

Come in and see the many rich colorings we have in this long-wearing shade material. Let us show you how little it will cost to shade your windows with Brenlin, and help you select just the tone that will harmonize with the color scheme of your room. Come today.

DISORDER BREAKS OUT IN BERLIN AGAIN

London, March 25.—Disorders broke out in Berlin during the night and fifty rounds were fired from machine guns by soldiers in the street, according to a Central News dispatch from Berlin today. There was a panic out no casualties were reported. Trouble started when an orchestra refused to play the national anthem. Soldiers broke windows of the theater. Later they returned from their barracks and fired two volleys amidst the crowds.

MOTORRAIDS

A smooth running engine that always answers your instant demand is a comfort in itself. It is essential to efficient engine performance that the cooling system be protected against the possibilities of freezing. Several makes of cars are now regularly equipped with shutters or ventilators which control the amount of air that comes in contact with the radiator surface. They are either changed by hand from the dash or are automatically operated by a thermostat. If you have a private garage it is advisable that you have installed a

Ask your druggist for three quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Aroclene and pour it into a pint bottle, then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled. Gargle the throat as directed and snuff or spray the liquid into the nostrils twice daily. It's a simple way to get rid of cold and catarrh and keeps the nasal passage and throat so clean and healthy that germs of flu or any other germs will have a hard time gaining a foothold.

AUTHORESS TELLS WHY SHE WROTE THE NOVEL "THREE WEEKS"

Elinor Glyn Discloses Secret of Theme of Book.

By EARLE C. REEVES.
International News Service Staff Correspondent.
London, March 4.—Elinor Glyn has answered the question: "Why I wrote
"Three Weeks."

In the Grand Magazine she defends
the morality of her works and explains that she wrote "Three Weeks"
for the arousing of the Englishman
because, generally, the Englishman is incapable of a great and overpowering passion.

Thirteen years ago Paul was the type of most young, clean Englishmen. I used often to wonder what such beings could become if awakened by a great love, and inspired by a woman of mind and temperament.

"In the Latin countries there have been countless cases of supreme passionate loves, which have made history, but in England this is very rare. I was going to say I could remember not a single case. I used to wonder if it was because Englishmen were naturally cold, or because English women were not capable of inspiring those great passions.

"And finally the vision of "Three Weeks" came to me suddenly in the Autumn of 1906, and I retired to the pavilion of my garden where I used to write in those days and began.

"It seemed as though some spirit
from beyond was guiding me—I wrote breathlessly for hours and hours on end."

She then turns to the popular attitude toward her works, and speaking of the Slav heroine of "Three Weeks," writes:

"The reason she has been condemned is because in England and America we have tried always to eliminate the red out of the spectrum, passion and anything to do with the physical must always be ignored and "taboo." Our whole attitude in these countries is an unconscious criticism of God's scheme of things—a tacit disapproval of His plan to keep the earth populated."

DISCUSSES NEW PLAN

Washington, March 24.—The practicability of declaring peace with Germany by a resolution of congress was discussed today by Representative Porter, chairman of the house foreign affairs committee and Senator Lodge, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee.

RECIPES FOR A DAY

Baked Fresh Salmon—Select a

three-and-one-half-pound cut of fresh salmon; head or tail cuts are reasonably priced. Wash and remove the scales and then wash again. Place in a china bowl and cover with the following dressing:
Mince fine and place in a bowl: One tablespoon of lemon juice, four tablespoons of salad oil, one-quarter teaspoon of paprika.

Beat to mix and then pour over the salmon. Let the salmon marinate for two hours, turn frequently,
and then lift to a baking pan and place a strip of cheesecloth underneath the fish, in order that it can be lifted without breaking. Dust with flour and then place in a hot oven and bake for one hour, basting with liquid left in bowl from marinating.
Four tablespoons of bacon fat, four tablespoons of boiling water. Garnish with nicely browned strips of bacon.

Fried Scallops—Wash and drain the scallops and then place in a saucepan and cover with boiling water. Simmer for five minutes and then drain and season. Roll in flour and then dip in beaten egg and then in fine bread crumbs and fry until golden brown, in hot fat.

Tartar Sauce—One cup of mayonnaise dressing, two tablespoons of grated onion, three tablespoons of finely minced parsley, one sour or dill pickle chopped fine, one teaspoon of salt, one teaspoon of paprika. Beat to mix and then serve with the scallops.

Baked Spaghetti au Gratin—One-fourth package spaghetti, break in inch lengths, boil in salt water twenty minutes. Put in greased baking dish, alternate with one-half can of tomatoes, season with salt, pepper.
Sprinkle buttered bread crumbs on top and brown.

Dutch Oven Oatmeal—One cup of

oats, two and a half cups of water,
three-fourths teaspoon of salt.
Have water boiling in oven. Stir in other ingredients and place on shelf of furnace. The oatmeal will be ready for breakfast.

Kidney Stew—Wash kidneys thoroughly and cut into two-inch pieces.
Roll in flour and brown in skillet.
Make a gravy of browned flour and water and add to this four small onions cut into small pieces, two cups of canned tomatoes, one teaspoon of salt, one-eighth teaspoon of pepper and a dash of paprika. Place meat and gravy in Dutch oven, cover and cook for four hours.

Orange Cup Cakes—One cup of sugar, three tablespoons of butter
substitute, two eggs well beaten
added to sugar and butter substitute
which have been creamed together,
one and one-half cups of flour, one
and one-half teaspoons of baking powder, one-half cup of orange juice
and the grated rind of one orange.
Bake in gem pans for twenty minutes and while hot roll in powdered sugar.

THE WOMAN WHO LOVED---AND EARNED

BY JANE PHELPS

A MODERN STORY OF HOME AND BUSINESS

GERRY TRIES HOUSEKEEPING

Chapter 85

I crossed the room, and laid my hand on Robert's shoulder.

"What is it dear?"

"Nerves, I guess," he raised his head and a dejected look came into his eyes, replacing the tears which he wiped away. "I beg your pardon, Gerry. After your planning to take your vacation doing something you hate to do because you can't afford to go away for the rest you need it isn't very square in me to let you see that I am weak and silly."

"What makes you say I am doing something I hate to do?" I asked.
"Don't I know how you loathe anything like housework. And you haven't room in this little coop for
a maid."

"A maid—here!" we both laughed
and the tension was relieved.

Before we retired I fixed some sandwiches of bread and cheese, and we grew quite hilarious over our first supper in anything like a home.
In the morning I cooked a nice breakfast. Fortunately, I knew how to make a good cup of coffee, and we had some of the fruit Mary had used as a center piece for the table, eggs and crisp brown toast. Even I had to own that it tasted quite different from Mrs. Lane's coffee and toast.

"You're a great cook, Gerry," was all Robert said, but he ate more heartily than he had for months.
When he kissed me good bye he said:
"I'll be home early," he hurried away before I could answer.

All day I thought of him as he was the night before when I returned after seeing Mary and Gardner Kenyon out. What did it mean? Was it simply nerves, as he had said, or had something happened of which I knew nothing?

Naturally now my thoughts turned to Marion Hovey. Had he learned to care so much for her that the thought of keeping house even in this crude way with another was painful? Her declaration that she loved Robert,
and that I was unworthy of him, had rankled constantly.

I shopped a little, for necessary food, going to the stores Mary had patronized in the neighborhood. I spent an hour before I went out studying the cook book which had been one of Mary's first purchases.
I decided not to attempt anything elaborate, so purchased steak, potatoes, which I would bake, some rice
for a pudding—I had noticed a recipe for "Mothers' Old-fashioned Rice Pudding" which read simply, I would try it. Then I bought some rolls—I would heat them both for dinner and for breakfast—Robert was very fond of hot bread.

I had cleaned the little place before I went out. There was really very little to do as Mary had left it immaculate. I made my pudding, got myself a bite of lunch, and then wondered what I should do with myself until time to get dinner. Thoughts of the shop came to me. I wondered who was waiting on my customers,

and if they would make a fuss because I was not there. I had a large clientele, women whom I had waited upon and pleased, for years. I hoped Mary would take them.

I studied the cook book an hour;
then unable to endure the inactivity
longer I went for a walk in the park.

"Well, how goes it?" It was Gardner Kenyon's voice. He was almost breathless he had hurried so to catch up with me.

"Oh, beautifully! We had a lovely breakfast. Then I marketed. But this afternoon I had nothing to do so I came out for a walk."

"That's one thing business does to you women," he had fallen into step with me. "You don't know how to loaf. Now a man, no matter how strenuous his business life, if he has the chance can loaf with a clear conscience, and do it comfortably. But a business woman carries an Atlas like load on her shoulders and won't drop it even when she is playing."

"Does Mary carry a load constantly?" I asked mischievously.

"Yes, altho I have tried to break
her of it. I am teaching her to play.
I don't want her to miss the shop after we are married."

After we parted I wondered if Gardner were right. I concluded he was. I, for one, didn't know how to loaf.

bed today and prayed that life might be spared. The boy, Frank Pinano, Jr., is one of ten children and the only one whose escapades with a band of corner
gangsters served to mar the happiness in the Pinano home. Several days ago
the father drove him from the house
but the boy's mother followed him and gave him some money. This the boy spent on his gangster friends.

Learning of this, the father sought out his son in the latter's haunts and was greeted with a sneer when he upbraided the boy. The elder Pinano then whipped out a revolver and shot

his son three times.

"I shot him to save his soul," he confessed to the police. "I am glad because I would rather kill him than have him murder some one and be hanged."

But today paternal love overcame everything else, and the father sat beside his boy and prayed that he might not die.

"You're right," the young man told him, "I had it coming to me."
Physicians say there is little likelihood of his recovery.

AUTHRESS TELLS WHY SHE WROTE THE NOVEL "THREE WEEKS"

Elinor Glyn Discloses Secret of Theme of Book.

By EARLE C. REEVES.
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

London, March 4.—Elinor Glyn has answered the question: "Why I wrote 'Three Weeks'."

In the Grand Magazine she defends the morality of her works and explains that she wrote "Three Weeks" for the arousing of the Englishman because, generally, the Englishman is incapable of a great and overpowering passion.

Thirteen years ago Paul was the type of most young, clean Englishmen. I used often to wonder what such beings could become if awakened by a great love, and inspired by a woman of mind and temperament.

"In the Latin countries there have been countless cases of supreme passionate loves, which have made history—but in England this is very rare. I was going to say I could remember not a single case. I used to wonder if it was because Englishmen were naturally cold, or because English women were not capable of inspiring those great passions."

"And finally the vision of 'Three Weeks' came to me suddenly in the Autumn of 1906, and I retired to the pavilion of my garden where I used to write in those days and began."

"It seemed as though some spirit from beyond was guiding me—I wrote breathlessly for hours and hours on end."

She then turns to the popular attitude toward her works, and speaking of the Slav heroine of "Three Weeks" writes:

"The reason she has been condemned is because in England and America we have tried always to 'eliminate the red out of the spectrum' and anything to do with the physical must always be ignored and 'taboo.' Our whole attitude in these countries is an unconscious criticism of God's scheme of things—a tacit disapproval of His plan to keep the earth populated."

DISCUSSES NEW PLAN

Washington, March 24.—The practicability of declaring peace with Germany by a resolution of Congress was discussed today by Representative Porter, chairman of the house foreign affairs committee and Senator Lodge, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee.

THE WOMAN WHO LOVED---AND EARNED

BY JANE PHELPS
A MODERN STORY OF HOME AND BUSINESS

GERRY TRIES HOUSEKEEPING
Chapter 85
I crossed the room and laid my hand on Robert's shoulder.
"What is it dear?"
"Nerves, I guess!" he raised his head and a radiant look came into his eyes, replacing the tears which he wiped away. "I beg your pardon, Gerry. After your planning to take your vacation doing something you hate to do because you can't afford to go away for the rest you need it isn't very square in me to let you see that I am weak and silly."
"What makes you say I am doing something I hate to do?" I asked.
"Don't I know how you loathe anything like housework? And you haven't room in this little coop for a maid."
"A maid—here!" we both laughed and the tension was relieved.
Before we retired I fixed some sandwiches of bread and cheese, and we grew quite hilarious over our first supper in anything like a home.
In the morning I cooked a nice breakfast. Fortunately, I knew how to make a good cup of coffee, and we had some of the fruit Mary had used as a center piece for the table, eggs and crisp brown toast. Even I had to own that it tasted quite different from Mrs. Lane's coffee and toast.
"You're a great cook, Gerry," was all Robert said, but he ate more heartily than he had for months. When he kissed me good bye he said: "I'll be home early," the hurried
